

Battle Honours Guide

This guide has been created by Director Luca for ease of knowing which dates count to what Battle Honours. Assuming a soldier served even a single day on the front line, they would have received at least one battle honour.

Unfortunately, some battles (such as Armentieres, where 55 men had been killed) did not receive battle honours whilst other relatively small engagements (such as Poelcappelle, where one man was killed) did receive battle honours. Sometimes multiple battle honours were awarded for the same action (Example: 29th September 1918).
